

World's Highest Lord Vishnu Temple

Muktinath DHAM

Where Earth Meets the Divine

Muktinath Temple, located in the Mustang district of Nepal at an altitude of 3,800 meters, is a sacred site for both Hindus and Buddhists. Dedicated to Lord Vishnu, it is one of the 108 Divya Desams (holy abodes of Vishnu) revered in Vaishnavism. For Buddhists, it's known as Chumig Gyatsa, meaning "Hundred Waters," and is believed to be blessed by Guru Rinpoche (Padmasambhava).

The temple is famous for its natural flame—Jwala Mai—which burns continuously from a natural gas source, and the 108 water spouts behind the temple through which pilgrims pass to cleanse themselves spiritually.

Trivia:

- ✓ Muktinath translates to "Place of Liberation."
- ✓ It is one of the highest temples in the world accessible by road or trekking.
- ✓ Tibetan Buddhists consider the deity worshipped here to be a manifestation of Avalokiteshvara, the Bodhisattva of Compassion.
